RECOMMENDED PRODUCTS

The DynaGen TE410 and TG410 controllers are the designated long-term platforms replacing the TE/TG350. These products are part of Cattron's ongoing product roadmap and will continue to be supported and enhanced moving forward. More details about these products are available on cattron.com.

Existing TE/TG350 configurations can be migrated to the TE410/TG410 platform, with Cattron Support available to assist with a streamlined conversion. For most applications, this transition requires minimal to no changes. In certain generator applications, minor internal wiring adjustments may be required, and Cattron Support can provide clear guidance to facilitate these updates.
